

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Provided is the use of a viral vector system to transduce/infect a target adipose tissue site. Also provided is a method of treating and/or preventing a disease in a subject and use of a viral vector system in the manufacture of a pharmaceutical composition to transduce/infect a target adipose tissue site wherein the disease is associated with a derangement in the metabolism of adipose tissue.